

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

By T. P. Felder

Several members of the Little Mission Group went in a body to aid the sick Wednesday afternoon. The first house visited was Mrs. Willie Robinson's, where the mother is very sick and the five children are too young to do anything but add to her mental anguish. There we cleaned house, cooked, washed clothes and left everyone in better spirits. Lula, James, Stella, Will and Leola Robinson are members of the Little Mission Group.

Next we visited Mrs. V. L. Carter who has been on the sick list several days. We found Mrs. Carter convalescing. From there the Group went to visit Mrs. Jenny Trotter Harvey who was very, very sick. During our visits we learned of many other homes where there are shut ins. To the members of the Little Mission Group who could not report any recent Missions performed when we met last, I wish to suggest that you read your Southern Advocate and learn of the work that is calling the true Missionaries. Do not say you do not see anything around you to do for Jesus.

Saturday we were in the Azion community collecting a few debts, writing subscriptions for the Southern Advocate and recruiting chorus members. We found Mrs. Rosa Keyes on the sick list. The A. B. Carrs were having a fish fry when we arrived at their home. They graciously served us fish sandwiches and renewed their subscription to the Southern Advocate. Mrs. Nellie Ross was busy making room for her canned foods. At Dennis Moody's we found Mr. Nick Christmas barbecuing piles of ribs, chickens and a pig. After enjoying a generous sample of barbecue we went to have a business conference with the Ross Mitchells. We found a prosperous, well and happy family; the days work done and the entire family at leisure and our business conference soon turned into a big frolic and watermelon feast. As dark settled down we began our homeward trek. We dropped in to find Mrs. Estella Britton keeping a lonely vigil at the bedside of her daughter Willie. Our penultimate stop was for a brief conference with the C. J. Mitchells; then on to our door to find a large sack of melons that had been left by an unknown visitor. After inquiring among our neighbors we learned that bread we had cast on the waters in the form of nursing a sick friend had returned to us in the form of a large sack of cantalopes and watermelons.

The members of the All Negro Extravaganza Cast who entertained with a special program Sunday afternoon at Merigold were at their best because a chicken dinner had been prepared for them and they had been told that if they failed there would be no chicken dinner. Everyone returned home fully stuffed.

Mrs. Lucille Steward formerly of Mound Bayou, but now of Shaw is in town visiting the Christmases and Felders.

The Little Mission Group will conduct a special service at Bethel A. M. E. Church at 3 p. m. Sunday August 11 (2nd Sunday.) Everyone is asked to come out and help us. The theme is "SERVICE through LOVE."

Dr. L. DeLaine and Miss B. Taylor were guests of Miss A. Pettitt while in town for the corner stone laying Friday.

Mrs. Abraham Nichols. "Honey" Nichols, and Mrs. Harrington of Clarkedale and Mr. Thomas Williams of Hollandale were guest at the Felder house Friday.

Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Dumas, their son and daughter (John and Gloria) Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. Johnson all of Natchez, Mr. and Mrs. M. I. Elsbury of Atlanta, Georgia, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Young, their daughter Elizabeth and niece Laura of Jackson, Miss., Mrs. F. E. Smith of Patherburn, Miss., and Mrs. J. E. Collins of Shaw, Miss.

were house guests of the P. M. Smiths Friday (Taborian corner stone Celebration.)

Mrs. Virgie Broomfield, Mr. and Mrs. Bridget, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Doshe and Mrs. Elsie Wright of Jackson were guests of the P. A. Smiths Friday.

Among others who shook hands with us at the corner stone laying were Reverends Ash, McNeal, L. Durden, Wallace Jones, and daughter Eva, Mesdames Marie Woods and son Herbert, Hattie Coleman, Smith (the former Annie Laurine Nichols) and her husband Dr. Smith of Clarksdale, Clara Jackson Jones, and children, Messrs. Hackett of Drew, Picken of Greenwood, and Prof. Grey of Arcola, and several others whose names were lost in the rush.

Mrs. Griffin of Benoit, Mrs. Perkins of Anguilla, Mrs. Banks of Gunnison, and Mr. Echols of Ittabena were among the house guest at the Hayes Coopers Friday

We sympathize heartily with the Myers family in their distress—the sudden death of Mrs. Morgan, mother of Mrs. Myers. The Little Mission group went in a body to carry cheer into the Myer home Thursday.
